Guide

- >
- This game is played with only 1 singular deck i.e 1 type of card x 4 colours
- Click on the Uno button before playing 2nd last card, if uno is valid button will turn green
- If Wild or +4 is 1st top card user is asked to choose a random colour before hands are shown
- All Action cards with exception of Wild card i.e (⏭, ↺, +2, +4) if played, will cause the other to player forfeit their turn
- Players can be called out if they have 1 card in their hand and they haven't clicked Uno!, This leads to them being penalised by adding 5 more cards to their hand

After a draw 4 is played by player 1 and colour changed to blue

Wild card colour selection
